

CHAPTER 3, PROBLEM 9

- I. We expect B_1 to be less than 0 since we can expect a negative correlation between the two variables. The increase in nitrous oxide levels can make the houses in a certain area attractive. For B_2 , we expect to see a positive correlation since we can assume that more rooms will equal a bigger house, ceteris paribus. The only unknown is that we do not know the size of each room which can cause uncertainty in our data, which would increase our error term (μ).
- II. The correlation between x_1 and x_2 is less than 0 whilst $B^2 > 0$, so our simple linear regression estimator will be \widehat{B}^1 which we can assume that there will be a downward bias in our model. Also, if we look at B^1 which will be less than 0, we can conclude that $\log(\text{price})$ will be overpowering, resulting in a negative trend.
- III. We can see that we have two estimated equations, one that includes B^2 and one that does not take B^2 into account,

$$(1) \log(\text{price}) = 11.71 - 1.043 \log(\text{nox}), n = 506, R^2 = 0.264$$

$$(2) \log(\text{price}) = 9.24 - 0.718 \log(\text{nox}) + 0.306 \text{rooms}, n = 506, R^2 = 0.514.$$

A big difference between the two estimated equations is the R^2 . We can see that in the second equation, where we include rooms, the two variables explain more of the data contrary to the first equation. We also notice that our B^1 gets more significant on $\log(\text{price})$ in the second equation because its coefficient has a more significant slope. The first equation is a simple linear regression whilst the second one is a multipdual linear regression. Why we get higher R^2 can be because we put one more variable in equation 2 and that's why we get R^2 and that's an assumption you need to make.

- IV. We believe that is -0.718 is closer to the true elasticity because R^2 is greater in equation 2 and there is the -0.718 .
