Culture in the Clinic Catherine Mas,2022-11-22 After the 1959 Cuban Revolution hundreds of thousands of Cuban refugees came to Miami With this influx the city's health care system was overwhelmed not just by the number of patients but also by the differences in culture Mainstream medicine was often inaccessible or inadequate to Miami's growing community of Latin American and Caribbean immigrants Instead many sought care from alternative often unlicensed health practitioners During the 1960s a recently arrived Cuban feeling ill might have visited a local clínica a quasi legal storefront doctor's office or a santero a priest in the Afro-Cuban religion of Lukum or Santería This exceptionally diverse medical scene would catch the attention of anthropologists who made Miami's multiethnic population into a laboratory for cross-cultural care By the 1990s the medical establishment in Miami had matured into a complex and culturally informed health delivery system generating models of care that traveled far beyond the city Some clínicas had transformed into lucrative HMOs Santería became legally protected by the courts and medical anthropology played a significant role in the rise of global health Catherine Mas shows how immigrants reshaped American medicine while the clinic became a crucial site for navigating questions of wellness citizenship and culture

Migrant and Tourist Encounters Andrea Easley Morris,2020-05-13 Migrant and Tourist Encounters The Ethics of Im mobility in 21st Century Dominican and Cuban Cultures analyzes the effects of clashing flows of voluntary and involuntary travelers to and from these countries due to an increase in migration and tourism during the last three decades I compare the ways in which literary works and films reflect on and critique the power relations and ethics of im mobility and encounter both on the islands and in destinations abroad The works draw attention to the interconnectedness of migration tourism and other forms of travel as well as immobility and portray growing local and global inequalities through characters disparate access to free voluntary movement I consider how the works respond to the question of the moral potential of encounters produced by im mobilities and the possibility of connection across differences I argue that Dominican and Cuban artists not only critique neo colonial paradigms of power and im mobility but envision and enact strategies for belonging and in some cases suggest a path toward de colonial cosmopolitanism
