

Cell Cycle Regulation

Quality control inspectors typically do not limit their product testing to the final product at the end of the assembly line. They monitor all aspects of production in hopes of preventing larger problems down the line. Likewise, when cells are progressing through the cell cycle there are processes in place that check on the cell's progress. Is everything happening according to plan? Are there sufficient resources to complete the task of cell division? Tightly regulating the cell cycle keeps a multicellular organism healthy by conserving materials. This ensures that new cells receive accurate genetic information, and also prevents uncontrolled growth that may lead to diseases like cancer.

Model 1 – The Cell Cycle

1. Model 1 displays the four major phases of the cell cycle. Identify each of these phases and briefly describe the purpose of each phase.
2. There are three regulatory checkpoints built into the cell cycle. Indicate the phase in which each checkpoint occurs and in which part of the phase (early or later) it occurs.
3. Progression through the cell cycle is dependent on both extra- and intra- cellular conditions. Consider the following conditions that the cell checks for before proceeding further in its cycle. Indicate which checkpoint(s) most likely responds to that condition and explain your reasoning.

Function and Metabolism Yoshio Yazaki, Seibu Mochizuki, 2012-12-06 A variety of metabolic processes are known to be intimately involved in the maintenance of cellular structure and function It has also become clear that metabolic events involved in the synthesis and hydrolysis of ATP as well as for the synthesis of proteins and phospholipids are essential for cellular health The regulation of cell function is generally achieved through participation of a wide variety of hormones and different signal transduction mechanisms for the activation deactivation of some specific metabolic processes In this regard cyclic AMP and calcium seem to play a crucial role Various hormones are also known to affect the genetic machinery of all the cell however the exact signals for genetic control of cellular function are not well defined In particular the sequence of events concerned with remodelling of different types of cells under various pathological situations is poorly understood In this book we have therefore dealt with some of these issues from biochemical molecular biological physiological and pharmacological viewpoints Special emphasis has been laid on understanding heart function and metabolism in health and disease in general and cardiac hypertrophy heart failure and ischemic heart disease in particular It is hoped that this multidisciplinary information will be of value to basic scientists and clinical investigators Biological Science
