Asian And Pacific Cities Development Patterns:

Asian and Pacific Cities Ian Shirley, Carol Neill, 2013-03-12 The cities of Asia and the Pacific are at the epicentre of development in what is arguably the most populous culturally distinctive and economically powerful region in the world 16 major cities such as Tokyo Shanghai Manila Jakarta Bangkok Singapore Auckland Kuala Lumpur and Santiago located in countries as diverse as Mexico and Vietnam Samoa and India China and Australia exemplify the changing patterns of development across this vast region of the world By tracking economic and social trends the contributors to this collection reveal how a wide range of political and cultural factors have interacted over time to provide a powerful explanation for the shape and characteristics of the city today Based on a collaborative research programme and drawing on the work of local researchers this book examines the realities of city development characterised by domestic migration spatial and social fragmentation squatter settlements and gated communities economic experiments and the emergence of the Asian Tigers The collection as a whole records the way in which countries in this region have moved from underdevelopment to become global economic and political powers This book provides a fascinating journey through Asia and the Pacific by generating an insiders view of each city and an insight into national development As such it will be of great interest to students and scholars interested in the Asian and Pacific region in disciplines such as economics politics geography and sociology and in policy domains such as urban planning and economic development

Scaling Urban Environmental Challenges Peter J Marcotullio, Gordon McGranahan, 2012-06-25 Think globally act locally emphasizes the importance of scale in dealing with environmental challenges but not how to factor it in This major new book focuses on the spatial dimensions of urban environmental burdens showing how important it is to take these into account when pursuing environmental justice and good governance whether in the context of the sanitary risks of slum living the pollution of uncontrolled industrialization and motorization or the enormous ecological footprints of affluent urban lifestyles Written by leading experts in the fields of urban development and environmental planning the book reviews the urban environmental shifts that have shaped today's challenges and examines conditions and problems in the urban centres of low middle and high income countries Case studies address such economically diverse cities as Accra New Delhi Mexico City and Manchester while thematic chapters explore issues including water sanitation and transportation The book concludes by exploring and analysing different scales of governance The editors argue that we should not rely solely on local governance to address local burdens like poor sanitation nor depend only on global governance for global challenges such as greenhouse gas emissions but that scale is crucial in both understanding the problems and devising successful responses Published with UNU IAS and IIED Asian Port Cities Sharon Siddique, 2015 Although the term port city has fallen out of favour there are good reasons why it should be revived Ports are reclaiming their role in the life of the city A comparative study of some of Asia's port cities Singapore Hong Kong Shanghai Tianjin Tokyo Jakarta and Johor Bahru PTP demonstrate a complex dynamic and symbiotic relationship between these ports and their cities Port city form is dynamic and ever changing Twenty first century Asian ports have expanded constantly adapting to new technology rapid growth trajectories and the forces of globalization Ports have shifted moving from space adjacent to the city centre to the periphery This in turn allows for the expansion of the waterfront which is once more a focal point for people oriented activities and displays The vibrancy of the city centre is reflected in the exuberance of the high rise buildings plazas malls and public spaces Ports retain their traditional hinterlands but for many the hinterland has expanded to embrace the globe The essence of twenty first century Asian port city form is the uniting of land and water worlds Page 4 of cover Global Port Cities in North America Boris Vormann, 2014-11-27 As the material anchors of globalization North America's global port cities channel flows of commodities capital and tourists This book explores how economic globalization processes have shaped these cities political institutions social structures and urban identities since the mid 1970s Although the impacts of financialization on global cities have been widely discussed it is curious that how the global integration of commodity chains actually happens spatially creating a quantitatively new global organization of production distribution and consumption processes remains understudied The book uses New York City Los Angeles Vancouver and Montreal as case studies of how once redundant spaces have been reorganized and crucially reinterpreted so as to accommodate new flows of goods and people and how in these processes social environmental and security costs of global production networks have been shifted to the public The State of Asian Cities ..., 2010 Asia-Pacific Development Journal, 2008 The State of Asian Cities 2010/11, 2010 The report throws new light on current issues and challenges which national and local governments the business sector and organised civil society are facing On top of putting forward a number of recommendations this report testifies to the wealth of good innovative practice that countries of all sizes and development stages have accumulated across the region It shows us that sustainable human settlements are within reach and that cooperation between public authorities the private and the voluntary sectors is the key to success This report highlights a number of critical issues demographic and economic trends poverty and inequality the environment climate change and urban governance and management Urban Land ,2007-04 Journal on Asian-Pacific Urban Studies and Affairs ,1998 Globalization and Mega-city Development in Pacific Asia Jacob Park,1997 New Regional Development Paradigms: Globalization and the new regional development Asfaw Kumssa,T. G. McGee,2001 The era of globalization is creating profound changes in global relationships changes that are manifest at international regional national and sub national levels making traditional regional development policy obsolete and irrelevant Traditional policy needs to be redefined and reconstructed so it can capture and articulate emerging regional trends and issues The first of four volumes based mainly on Global Forum on Regional Development Policy organized by the United Nations Centre for Regional Development in Nagoya Japan this book presents a broad theoretical and trend analysis of globalization and its effects on the theory and practice of regional development The book lays out the major components that merit consideration if there is to be new regional planning in this millennium While contributors to the volume do not agree on the effects of globalization on economic growth there is a consensus in the volume that globalization presents a challenge to conventional development theories The challenge for regional planners is to examine the impact and implications of recent structural changes on regional development planning and come up with viable and pragmatic regional development strategies This volume begins to meet that challenge by laying out the major components that merit consideration The following volumes will present detailed case studies of current regional planning practices focusing largely on developing countries News Bulletin ,2007 The Future of Asian and Pacific Cities 2019 ,2019 Multilateral Cooperation for Development in the Twenty-first Century Peter Hall,1993 State of the Environment in Asia and the Pacific ,1995 Key Indicators for Asia and the Pacific 2012 Asian Development Bank,2012 This includes the latest available economic financial social and environmental indicators for the 48 regional members of the Asian Development Bank ADB This publication aims to present the latest key statistics on development issues concerning the economies of Asia and the Pacific to a wide audience including policy makers development practitioners government officials researchers students and the general public Part I of this issue is a special chapter Green urbanization in Asia Parts II and III comprise of brief non technical analyses and statistical tables on the Millennium Development Goals MDGs and seven other themes back cover New Cities of the Pacific Rim Edward James Blakely,Robert John Stimson,1992 Asian/Pacific Book Development ,1993 The Economic Development of Vietnam in an Asian Pacific Perspective Tran Van Tho,1990
