Butchart,2010 Conventional Wisdom Holds that freedmen s education was largely the work of privileged single white northern women motivated by evangelical beliefs and abolitionism Schooling the Freed People shatters this notion entirely For the most comprehensive study of the origins of black education in freedom ever undertaken Ronald Butchart combed the archives of all of the freedmen s aid organizations as well as the archives of every southern state to compile a vast database of over 11 600 individuals who taught in southern black schools between 1861 and 1876 Based on this pathbreaking research he reaches some surprising conclusions one third of the teachers were African Americans black teachers taught longer than white teachers half of the teachers were southerners and even the northern teachers were more diverse than previously imagined His evidence demonstrates that evangelicalism contributed much less than previously belived to white teachers commitment to black students that abolitionism was a relatively small factor in motivating the teachers and that on the whole the teachers ideas and aspirations about their work often ran counter to the aspirations of the freed people for Schooling The crowning achievement of a veteran scholar this is the definitive book on freedmen s teachers in the South as well as an outstanding contribution to social history and our understanding of African American education Sessional Papers Canada. Chiles,2023-12-28 A Black majority city with a history of the most severe segregation and inequity Richmond is still grappling with this legacy as it moves into the twenty first century Marvin Chiles now offers a unique take on Richmond s racial politics since the civil rights era by demonstrating that the city s current racial disparities in economic mobility housing and public education actually represent the unintended consequences of Richmond s racial reconciliation measures He deftly weaves municipal politics together with grassroots efforts examining the work and legacies of Richmond s Black leaders from Henry Marsh on the city council in the 1960s to Mayor Levar Stoney to highlight the urban revitalization and public history efforts meant to overcome racial divides after Jim Crow yet which ironically reinforced racial inequality across the city Compellingly written this project carries both local and broader regional significance for Richmonders Virginians southerners and all Americans Sessional Papers Ontario,1917 Annual Report of the Board of State Auditors for the State of Michigan for the Year ... Michigan.
