Begging For More:

The Evolution of Begging J. Wright, Marty L. Leonard, 2007-05-08 Begging by nestling birds has become the model system for investigating evolutionary conflicts of interest within families and their theoretical resolution provided by honest signals of offspring need In response to the recent explosions of scientific papers on the evolution of begging we have brought together twenty four original contributions from major researchers in all areas of this dynamic field Organised into six sections I Theoretical approaches II Begging as a signal III Nestling physiology IV Sibling competition V Brood parasitism and VI Statistical approaches this book is primarily aimed at research scientists and those at the graduate student level For the first time the theoretical and empirical literature on begging is fully reviewed New ideas and data are also presented from a wide range of natural systems and each chapter ends with suggestions for future study

British Social Attitudes Roger Jowell, John Curtice, Alison Park, Katarina Thomson, Lindsey Jarvis, Catherine Bromley, Nina Stratford, 2000-11-23 I've always enjoyed reading the British Social Attitudes survey which shows what the British people really think as opposed to what journalists and politicians like to pretend they think John Pilger Britain is a well documented nation We know a lot about the characteristics of our society who we are and what we do We know much less about what we think and feel about our world and ourselves The indispensable annual British Social Attitudes survey fills this gap It compiles describes and comments on a range of current social attitudes The information is derived from interviews carried out by the National Centre for Social Research's own interviewers among a nationwide sample of around 3 500 people each year The series seeks to chart changes in British social values over a period of time in relation to other changes in society and is core funded by the Gatsby Charitable Foundation A full report is published each year The 17th Report summarizes and interprets data from the most recent survey as well as making comparisons with findings from previous years The data are publicly available through the ESRC Data Archive at the University of Essex

Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is an exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
