Ethics and climate change ,2015-07-27 Climate change is the most significant moral and environmental issue of our time This project seeks to help deepen explicit ethical reflection around the world on national responses to climate change by developing a publicly available record on national compliance with ethical obligations for climate change similar to the reports that are now available on national compliance with human rights obligations Handbook of the Politics of the Arctic Leif Christian Jensen, Geir Hønneland, 2015-09-25 The Arctic has again become one of the leading issues on the international foreign policy agenda in a manner unseen since the Cold War Drawing on the perspectives of geo politics and international law this Handbook offers fresh insights and perspectives on the most pressing issues grouped under the headings of political ascendancy climate and environmental issues resources and energy and the response and policies of affected countries Research Handbook on Climate Governance Karin Bäckstrand, Eva Lövbrand, 2015-11-27 The 2009 United Nations climate conference in Copenhagen is often represented as a watershed in global climate politics when the diplomatic efforts to negotiate a successor agreement to the Kyoto Protocol failed and was replaced by a fragmented and decentralized climate governance order In the post Copenhagen landscape the top down universal approach to climate governance has gradually given way to a more complex hybrid and dispersed political landscape involving multiple actors arenas and sites The Handbook contains contributions from more than 50 internationally leading scholars and explores the latest trends and theoretical developments of the climate governance scholarship Introduction to Rural Planning Nick Gallent, Iqbal Hamiduddin, Meri Juntti, Sue Kidd, Dave Shaw, 2015-06-30 Introduction to Rural Planning Economies Communities and Landscapes provides a critical analysis of the key challenges facing rural places and the ways that public policy and community action shape rural spaces The second edition provides an examination of the composite nature of rural planning which combines land use and spatial planning elements with community action countryside management and the projects and programmes of national and supra national agencies and organisations It also offers a broad analysis of entrepreneurial social action as a shaper of rural outcomes with particular coverage of the localism agenda and Neighbourhood Planning in England With a focus on accessibility and rural transport provision this book examines the governance arrangements needed to deliver integrated solutions spanning urban and rural places Through an examination of the ecosystem approach to environmental planning it links the procurement of ecosystem services to the global challenges of habitat degradation and loss climate change and resource scarcity and management A valuable resource for students of planning rural development and rural geography Introduction to Rural Planning aims to make sense of current rural challenges and planning approaches evaluating the currency of the rural label in the context of global urbanisation arguing that rural spaces are relational spaces characterised by critical production and consumption tensions Asian Development Outlook 2016 Update Asian Development Bank, 2016-09-01 Steady growth endures in developing Asia

despite external slack Half year results prompt this Update to affirm overall growth projections published in March in Asian Development Outlook 2016 External weakness is offset by resilient domestic demand in large regional economies led by the People s Republic of China where policy regulates growth moderation as the economy restructures and India where progressive reform backs energetic expansion Risks to the outlook include continued doldrums in the industrial economies uncertainty about their monetary policies affecting capital flows and rising rhetoric against free trade Within the region mounting private debt could sour under economic shock And natural disasters though impossible to predict pose ever greater risks in view of climate change and Asia s outsized vulnerability Asian policy makers are willing partners in the global effort against climate change But the region can and must go beyond current national pledges to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and hold global warming short of catastrophe This Update explores the options toward achieving this vital goal highlighting that the benefits to developing Asia far outweigh the costs of its transition to low carbon growth Turn Down the Heat World Bank Publications,2014-11-20 A Report for the World Bank by the Potsdam Institute for Climate Impact Research and Analytics Food Security, Agricultural Policies and Economic Growth Niek Koning,2017-04-21 Using a political economic approach supplemented with insights from human ecology this volume analyzes the long term dynamics of food security and economic growth The book begins by discussing the nature of preindustrial food crises and the changes that have occurred since the 19th century with the ascent of technical science and the fossil fuel revolution It explains how these changes improved living standards but that the realization of this improvement was usually dependent on government support for smallholder modernization The author sets out how the evolution of food security in different regions has been influenced by farm policy choices and how these choices were shaped by local societal characteristics international relations and changing configurations in metropolitan countries Separate chapters are devoted to the interaction of this evolution with debates on food security and economic growth and with international economic policies The final chapters highlight the new challenges for global food security that will arise as traditional sources of biomass production and the more easily extractable reserves of fossil biomass become depleted or can no longer be used Overall the book emphasizes the inadequacy of current explanations with regard to these challenges It explores what is needed to ensure a sustainable future and calls for a rethinking of these issues a necessary reflection in today s unstable global political situation Synopses of Science and Engineering Papers, Graduate School of Science and Engineering, Waseda University, Tokyo, Japan ,2007
