Systematic Approaches to Mental Health Care and Promotion Bach Tran,Roger C. Ho,Brian James Hall,2020-06-05 Globally mental health problems remain as one of the largest contributors to the population burden of diseases According to WHO common mental disorders including depression and anxiety affect the health of about 9% of the world's population and account for over 10% of the total years lived with disability. In many parts of the world the number of people with mental health disorders has been increasing, fueled by a rapid population growth and aging as well as urbanization and immigration. It is estimated that 80% of these non-fatal diseases occurred in low and middle income countries. However, in such settings coverage of both preventive and curative services is still very limited. Diversity in socio-cultural backgrounds and limited capacity of local health care systems are emphasizing the importance of systematic approaches to understanding and intervening in the issue. Although the social, economic, and health burden of mental health issues are substantial, effectiveness of policies and interventions is varied across regions and largely driven by contextual factors. Evidence-based prevention and treatment approaches involve the synthesis of epidemiological surveys, assessment of clinical populations (e.g. chronic medical diseases, chronic psychiatric illnesses) and studies exploring the role of biological markers in psychiatric illnesses. This Research Topic aims to introduce the latest research findings on the application of system thinking in Mental Health Care and Promotion.

Human rights in diverse education contexts J.P. Rossouw, Elda de Waal, Johan Beckmann, Johan Botha, Franciska Bothma, André du Plessis, Elize Küng, Nicholas Mollo, Ewelina Niemczyk, Louise Postma, Erika Serfontein, Marius Smit, Charl C. Wolhuter, 2019-12-12. The focus of this publication is on answering the central research question: How can Human Rights be advanced with regard to different kinds of diversities and in different educational settings? The publication pays special attention to the advancement of human rights in a variety of education-related contexts in keeping with human rights as a declared national priority for both society at large and the education system. One strategic priority of the Faculty of Education is research based on market requirements and needs. This book strives towards meeting this expectation by directly aiming at building human rights and social justice in the South African society: public schools and higher education institutions. Adjudication in the education context of the constitutional values of dignity, equality, and freedom focusses regularly on learners. The book highlights the value of education for full-fledged citizenship by delineating what schooling should entail to inspire learners towards both claiming equal freedoms and rights and taking accountability for the responsibilities attached to citizenship.

R. Whittle,2018 The Times of their Lives explains how archaeologists can now move away from thinking about history in terms of thousands of years to periods from one or two centuries down to lifetimes and generations a little more than two decades This vastly improved precision comes from the application of Bayesian chronological frameworks for the interpretation of radiocarbon dates If they do the right things archaeologists in general and prehistorians in particular need not confine themselves any longer to the long term which has often been seen as the defining currency of the discipline 0Many prehistorians are still uncomfortable with the choice of narratives now available or have not yet critically rethought old habits This book will show how temporally much more precise accounts of the past can be achieved across a broad range of contexts and situations It offers a series of case studies across much of the continent to provide much more precise timings of key features and trends in the European Neolithic sequence than are currently available and to construct much more precise estimates of the duration of events and phenomena From these there is the possibility to open up new insights into the tempo of change through the detailed study of selected sites and situations across the span of the European Neolithic from the sixth to the early third millennia cal BC At stake is our ability to study the lives of Neolithic people everywhere at the scale of lifetimes something unimaginable even a few years ago Journal of Economic Literature ,2014 The Dhaka University Studies ,2015 Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry ,1961 Korea Journal ,2018
