Sabrina Shaw Hunter 2A IB History of the Americas HL 7 November 2012 Paper 3 Guide: Mexican Revolution
Bullet Points: Defined and Summarized: 1. Causes of the Mexican Revolution: social, economic, and political; the role of the Porfiriato regime * Porfirio Diaz was the dictator of Mexico from 1876 to 1910. His regime is known as the Porfiriato regime. Diaz's social ideologies and aims were to divide and rule, obtain absolute power Diaz's methods were the Pan o Palo policy and the spoil system.

Diaz wanted to increase industrialization without increasing foreign investment and he used the spoil system to gain the support of the wealthy landowners. Diaz's political goals were to have autocratic rule, have absolute power, and obtain these through this policies and systems mentioned earlier. * Through Diaz's spoil system, the wealthy became wealthier and the poor, common Mexicans were starving.

Hacienda owners were benefiting from the economic situation of Mexico but the people were being oppressed socially, economically, and politically, until Madero began spreading non re-election campaigns and revolutionary leaders began to form groups and later armies, starting the Mexican Revolution.

2. The revolution and its leaders (1910-1917): Ideologies, aims, methods of Madero, Villa, Zapata, Carranza; achievements and failures; Constitution of 1917: nature and application * Madero: Came to power through the overthrowing of Diaz- Popular for his book, Presidential Succession of 1910.

Sought democracy, gained presidency through popular vote. His 15 months in office were followed by resistance political disaster, non-cooperation, and disunity between his followers and eventually Huerta. (His supposedly appointed commander of the government forces who conspired with the rebels for Madero's fall) * The aims of Madero were to remove Diaz from power and then take Diaz's power. Villa's aims changed impulsively and for immediate convenience. Zapata's aims were for agrarian reform complete revolutionary changes and land distribution evenly to the poor.

Carranza's aims were to overthrow Huerta and to create a plan similar to Madero's but without the ambitious social reforms. The ideologies of each revolutionary leader are very similar to the aims of each leader. The methods of Madero were forming the Anti-Reelectionist Center of Mexico and creating the Plan of San Luis Potosi. The methods of Villa were guerilla tactics and being a charismatic leader that connected with the lower class. The methods of Zapata were choosing small, easy battle to boost morale among his men and fighting while Diaz was occupied with the North.

The methods of Carranza were fighting Huerta and creating the Plan of Guadalupe. Madero and Carranza both became president, however they did not keep this position for very long because of their lack of social reform. Zapata's Plan of Avala was accepted by the other standing dictators by marking elements influencing middle class allegiances specifically those that weakened their well established alliances with ruling regimes The report is motivated by the conviction on the basis of past development experiences that a new Arab development model can only succeed if the middle class plays a lead role in designing and implementing processes of economic transformation and political transition Studying the middle class is therefore crucial to interpreting the past understanding the present and reading the potential future development prospects of the Arab region This report introduces three novel approaches aimed at charting a path for sustaining empowering and enlarging the middle class The first is related to the measurement of the middle class based on a definition that takes into account both the quantity and quality of their consumption expenditure The second relates to the profiling of the Arab middle class using variables such as education employment and mobility in addition to multidimensional poverty The third novel approach lies in using these results to provide a narrative of the socioeconomic context of the decade leading up to the uprisings from a middle class perspective The report concludes that the empowerment of the Arab middle class could pave a way out of the current development and governance debacle towards an Arab developmental State Publisher s description Beyond The Bridge Tobias Hochscherf, Heidi Philipsen, 2017-02-28 Drawing worldwide acclaim from critics and audiences alike programmes like The Killing Borgen The Bridge and The Legacy demonstrate widespread fascination with Danish style aesthetics and culture as seen through television narratives This book uses familiar alongside lesser known case studies of drama series to demonstrate how the particular features of Danish production from work cultures to storytelling techniques and trans national cooperation have enhanced contemporary Danish drama s appeal both at home and abroad The era of globalisation has blurred national and international television cultures and promoted regular cross fertilisation between film and television industries Important questions have emerged from this context surrounding for example the Americanisation of foreign television formats the meaning and practice behind the term quality television and the purpose and efficacy of public service broadcasting Beyond the Bridge tackles these issues in relation to Danish television by examining the so called scaffolded production processes behind the making of quality serials and their thought provoking content Drawing on popular motifs from these celebrated dramas such as foreign politics organised crime global warming and the impact of multinational corporations this timely book provides crucial insight into the Danish dramas at the forefront of sophisticated forward thinking fictional television The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Human Settlements Programme, 2013 Nairobi UN Habitat c2014 9789211325980 The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Publications, 2015-09-10 The African continent is currently in the midst of simultaneously unfolding and highly significant demographic economic technological environmental urban and socio political transitions Africa s economic performance is promising with booming cities supporting growing middle classes and creating sizable consumer markets Despite significant overall growth the continent continues to suffer under very rapid urban growth accompanied by massive urban poverty and many other social problems These seem to indicate that the development trajectories followed by African nations since post independence may not be able to deliver on the aspirations of broad based human development and prosperity for all This report therefore argues for a bold re imagining of prevailing models in order to steer the ongoing transitions towards greater sustainability based on a thorough review of all available options That is especially the case since the already daunting urban challenges in Africa are now being exacerbated by the new vulnerabilities and threats associated with climate and environmental change
