Nanoparticles in Cancer Therapy Neelam Thakur, Bhukya Prudhvi Lal, 2024-11-08 This book presents the role of nanoparticles in cancer therapy emphasizing their innovative applications across treatment diagnosis and the development of therapeutic strategies The first section of the book describes the applications of nanoparticles in cancer vaccines and gene therapy It features discussions on polymeric nanoparticles as nanovaccine carriers membrane based nano vaccines for immunotherapy and gene therapy techniques employing nanoparticles The second section presents advanced nanomedicine approaches specifying the role of chemodynamic nanoparticles in cancer theranostics the application of low dimensional nanomaterials and emerging strategies against drug resistance Additionally it explores nanotechnology in radiation therapy phototherapy modalities and bioengineered virus like nanoparticles for diagnostics and therapeutics The last section reviews the clinical applications and prospects examining theranostic nanoparticles the clinical translation of nanomedicine and the current limitations of cancer nanotherapy It also addresses future directions in nanoparticle application and examines the genotoxicity immunotoxicity cytotoxicity assessments safety profiles targeted drug delivery and their role in viral oncogenesis This book is a useful resource for researchers clinicians and students in the fields of oncology and nanotechnology

Topics in Theoretical and Computational Nanoscience Jeffrey Michael McMahan, 2011-06-24 Interest in structures with nanometer length features has significantly increased as experimental techniques for their fabrication have become possible The study of phenomena in this area is termed nanoscience and is a research focus of chemists pure and applied physics electrical engineers and others The reason for such a focus is the wide range of novel effects that exist at this scale both of fundamental and practical interest which often arise from the interaction between metallic nanostructures and light and range from large electromagnetic field enhancements to extraordinary optical transmission of light through arrays of subwavelength holes This dissertation is aimed at addressing some of the most fundamental and outstanding questions in nanoscience from a theoretical and computational perspective specifically At the single nanoparticle level how well do experimental and classical electrodynamics agree What is the detailed relationship between optical response and nanoparticle morphology composition and environment Does an optimal nanostructure exist for generating large electromagnetic field enhancements and is there a fundamental limit to this Can nanostructures be used to control light such as confining it or causing fundamentally different scattering phenomena to interact such as electromagnetic surface modes and diffraction effects Is it possible to calculate quantum effects using classical electrodynamics and if so how do they affect optical properties
