Exercises

7.1 Forces and Interactions (page 107)

1. A force is always part of a(n) mutual action that involves another force.
2. Define interaction. a mutual action between one thing and another
3. Describe the interaction forces between a nail and a hammer that hits it.
The hammer exerts a force on the nail, and the nail exerts a force on the hammer.

7.2 Newton's Third Law (page 108)

4. State Newton's third law.
Whenever one object exerts a force on a second object, the second object exerts an equal and opposite force on the first object.
5. Is the following sentence true or false? It doesn't matter which force we call action and which we call reaction. true
6. Action and reaction forces are equal in strength and opposite in direction.
7. Is the following sentence true or false? In every interaction, the forces always occur in pairs. true
8. Complete the table by writing the reaction for each action.

Action	Reaction
When you walk, you push against the floor.	The floor pushes against you.
The tires of a car push against the road.	The road pushes back on the tires.
When swimming, you push the water backward.	The water pushes you forward.
A dog wags its tail.	The tail wags the dog.
You push on a wall.	The wall pushes on you.
When a batter swings, the bat exerts a force on the ball.	The ball pushes back on the bat.

9. Use the idea of action and reaction forces to explain why a person trying to walk on ice may not have any forward motion.
Because there is minimal friction between the person and the ice, the person may not be able to exert an action force against the ice. Without an action force, there cannot be a reaction force to push the person forward.

Charles, James D. Slotta, Nathaniel Lasry, 2019-07-11 This book represents the emerging efforts of a growing international network of researchers and practitioners to promote the development and uptake of evidence based pedagogies in higher education at something a level approaching large scale impact By offering a communication venue that attracts and enhances much needed partnerships among practitioners and researchers in pedagogical innovation we aim to change the conversation and focus on how we work and learn together i e extending the implementation and knowledge of co design methods In this first edition of our Research Topic on Active Learning we highlight two of the three types of publications we wish to promote First are studies aimed at understanding the pedagogical designs developed by practitioners in their own practices by bringing to bear the theoretical lenses developed and tested in the education research community These types of studies constitute the practice pull that we see as a necessary counterbalance to knowledge push in a more productive pedagogical innovation ecosystem based on research practitioner partnerships Second are studies empirically examining the implementations of evidence based designs in naturalistic settings and under naturalistic conditions Interestingly the teams conducting these studies are already exemplars of partnerships between researchers and practitioners who are uniquely positioned as in between straddling the two worlds As a result these publications represent both the rigours of research and the pragmatism of reflective practice In forthcoming editions we will add to this collection a third type of publication design profiles These will present practitioner developed pedagogical designs at varying levels of abstraction to be held to scrutiny amongst practitioners instructional designers and researchers alike We hope by bringing these types of studies together in an open access format that we may contribute to the development of new forms of practitioner researcher interactions that promote co design in pedagogical innovation
