When educating a client after a total laryngectomy, which instruction would be most important for the nurse to include in the discharge teaching?

- A. Recommend that the client carry suction equipment at all times.
- B. Instruct the client to have writing materials with him at all times.
- C. Tell the client to carry a medical alert card that explains his condition.
- D. Caution the client not to travel outside the United States alone. - Answer-C

Rationale: Neck breathers carry a medical alert card that notifies health care personnel of the need to use mouth to stoma breathing in the event of a cardiac arrest in this client. Mouth to mouth resuscitation will not establish a patent airway. Options A and D are not necessary. There are many alternative means of communication for clients who have had a laryngectomy; dependence on writing messages is probably the least effective.
