2014 Maths Ana Question Paper:

International Handbook of Mathematical Learning Difficulties Annemarie Fritz, Vitor Geraldi Haase, Pekka Räsänen, 2019-01-30 This comprehensive volume provides teachers, researchers, and education professionals with cutting edge knowledge developed in the last decades by the educational, behavioural, and neurosciences, integrating cognitive, developmental, and socioeconomic approaches to deal with the problems children face in learning mathematics. The neurocognitive mechanisms and the cognitive processes underlying acquisition of arithmetic abilities and their significance for education have been the subject of intense research in the last few decades, but the most part of this research has been conducted in non-applied settings, and there is still a deep discrepancy between the level of scientific knowledge and its implementation into actual educational settings. Now it is time to bring the results from the laboratory to the classroom. Apart from bringing the theoretical discussions to educational settings, the volume presents a wide range of methods for early detection of children with risks in mathematics learning and strategies to develop effective interventions based on innovative cognitive test instruments. It also provides insights to translate research knowledge into public policies in order to address socioeconomic issues. And it does so from an international perspective, dedicating a whole section to the cultural diversity of mathematics learning difficulties in different parts of the world. All of this makes the International Handbook of Mathematical Learning Difficulties an essential tool for those involved in the daily struggle to prepare the future generations to succeed in the global knowledge society.

Visualisation and Epistemological Access to Mathematics Education in Southern Africa Marc Schäfer, 2023-04-27 This book demonstrates that using visualisation processes in mathematics education can help to enhance teaching and learning and bridge the inequality gap that exists between well-resourced and under-resourced schools in Southern Africa. Drawing on classroom research conducted in the Southern African region, it examines how epistemological access in a context of gross inequality can be constructively addressed by providing research-based solutions and recommendations. The book outlines the visualisation process as an integral but often overlooked process of mathematics teaching and learning. It goes beyond the traditional understanding of visualisation processes such as picture forming and using tools and considers visualisation processes that are semiotic in nature and includes actions such as gestures in combination with language. It adds value to the visualisation in mathematics education research discourse and deliberation in Africa. With a unique focus on Southern Africa and open avenues for further research and collaboration in the region, it will be a highly relevant reading for researchers, academics, and post-graduate students of mathematics education, comparative education, and social justice education.

Society, Organizations and the Brain: building towards a unified cognitive neuroscience perspective Carl Senior, Nick Lee, Sven Braeutigam, 2015-07-02 This e book brings together scholars in both the neurosciences and organizational sciences who have adopted various approaches to study the cognitive mechanisms mediating the social behavior that we see within organizations Such an approach has been termed by ourselves and others as organisational cognitive neuroscience In recent years there has been a veritable increase in studies that have explored the cognitive mechanisms driving such behaviors and much progress has been made in understanding the neural underpinnings of processes such as financial exchange risk awareness and even leadership However while these studies are informative and add to our understanding of human cognition they fall short of providing evidence based recommendations for practice

Specifically we address the broader issue of how the neuroscientific study of such core social behaviors can be used to improve the very way that we work To address these gaps in our understanding the chapters in this book serve as a platform that allows scholars in both the neurosciences and the organizational sciences to highlight the work that spans across these two fields The consolidation of these two fields also serves to highlight the utility of a singular organizational cognitive neuroscience This is a fundamentally important outcome of the book as the application of neuroscience to address economically relevant behaviors has seen a variety of fields evolve in their own right such as neuromarketing neuroeconomics and so forth The use of neuro scientific technologies in particular fMRI has indeed led to a bewildering and somewhat suffocating proliferation of new approaches however the speed of such developments demands that we must proceed carefully with such ventures or risk some fundamental mistakes The book that you now hold will consolidates these new neuroscience based approaches and in doing so highlight the importance of this approach in helping us to understand human social behavior in general Taken together the chapters provide a framework for scholars within the neurosciences who wish to explore the further the opportunities that the study of organisational behavior may provide
